Worlddidac General Assembly - December 15th, 2022

President’s Report

SDG#4 Quality Education for All

Would Education be a “Peace Maker”

Dr. Ing. Nader I. Imani, Worlddidac President
Changes in the way we live, work, and interact socio-economically.

Health Crisis, Energy Crisis, Worldwide Inflation and a Global Recession looming around are coining the New Normal.

Would more Education with more EdTech and more Pedagogy be required? Would SDG #4, "Quality Education for All," still be a realistic goal? Would the UN Decade of Action and the Sustainable Development Goals (17 SDGs) still be considered part of the new normal?
Changes in Learning Goals: The Learning Losses

We estimate that the pandemic led to deep learning losses which put the achievement of SDG4 in jeopardy.

- Learning crisis (Pre-pandemic): 52.6
- Learning crisis (Simulations): 57.2
- Learning crisis (2022): 70

Major losses of lifetime earnings. In all, this generation stands to lose $11 trillion lost future income for this generation of primary and secondary students in LIC and MICs.

Quality education for all.
